1 Introduction

The following overview summarises important prospectus, post-admission and transparency obligations under the Prospectus Regulation (EU) 2017/1129, the Market Abuse Regulation (EU) 596/2014 and the Transparency Directive 2004/109/EC in connection with an admission of financial instruments to the regulated market of the Frankfurt Stock Exchange (FSE).

The overview takes into account the laws and rules in effect on 21 July 2019. The overview focuses on issuers of financial instruments admitted to trading on regulated markets in Germany only that have their registered seat in Germany.

Issuers having their registered seat in another EU / EEA member state or having chosen another EU / EEA member state as their home member state (within the meaning of section 2 para. 1 lit. (i) of the Transparency Directive) may be subject to additional requirements under local implementation legislation. Differing local regulatory practice has to be observed.

Most issuers' obligations include a publication on the issuers' website and/or submission to media for the effective dissemination throughout the European community. Compliance with issuers' obligations is monitored by the competent authorities in the respective EU member state. A list of competent financial regulatory authorities for selected European countries is set out in section 3.

This overview has been prepared with due care, to fulfil the FSE's obligation pursuant to Art. 7 para. 1 of the Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2017/568. It is, however, pointed out that this overview provides a high-level summary and that FSE neither assumes any liability with regard to the comprehensiveness or accurateness of this overview, nor does FSE intend to provide legal advice by making this overview available to the public. Issuers remain responsible and it is recommended that issuers obtain independent advice, to ensure compliance with all applicable laws, regulations or stock exchange rules.

In particular, this overview does not cover additional obligations pursuant to national legislation or any stock exchange rules, nor does it cover additional obligations or exemptions that may exist for credit institutions and similar enterprises. The overview does not consider corporate law obligations other than as set out herein, nor does it consider applicable accounting standards or accounting practices. Also, the overview does not include any obligations of shareholders of a listed company (e.g. voting rights notifications, etc.).

4 Overview of Prospectus, Post-Admission and Transparency Obligations under Union Law and German implementing Law

4.1 Offering of securities - Prospectus Obligations

4.1.1 Obligations pursuant to the Prospectus Regulation

Pursuant to Art. 3 of the Prospectus Regulation, an issuer may not offer securities without having published a prospectus for such securities, except in certain cases as outlined in Art. 1 para. 4 and 5 of the Prospectus Regulation.

The Prospectus Regulation provides a new gradual system for the disclosure requirement. In view of the specificities of different types of securities, issuers, offers and admissions, this Regulation sets out rules for different forms of prospectuses - a standard prospectus, a wholesale prospectus for non-equity securities, a base prospectus, a simplified prospectus for secondary issuances and the EU Growth prospectus as a new type of prospectus. The EU Growth prospectus in Art. 15 of the Prospectus Regulation tries to offer proper balance between cost-efficient access to financial markets and investor protection to allow smaller, growing companies to raise capital.

Art. 6 and 7 of the Prospectus Regulation requires that the prospectus contains all information which, according to the particular nature of the issuer and of the securities, is necessary to enable investors to make an informed assessment of the assets and liabilities, financial position, profit and losses, and prospects of the issuer and of any guarantor, and of the rights attaching to such securities. Art. 16 of the Prospectus Regulation clarifies the criteria for assessment and presentation of risk factors, which are now limited to a total number of 15 and may be categorized by using a qualitative scale of low, medium and high, whereby the most material risk factors shall be mentioned first. All the information shall be presented in an easily analysable, concise and comprehensible form, generally limited to a maximum of 7 pages. The prospectus liability and additional requirements in case the final offer price and amount of securities which will be offered to the public cannot be included in the prospectus are stipulated in Art. 11 and 18 of the Prospectus Regulation.

Regular issuers now also have the option of drawing up a universal registration document, which allow faster access to capital markets and more efficient financial reporting for those that file it for at least two consecutive years. It is stipulated in Art. 9 of the Prospectus Regulation with further specifications.

Pursuant to Art. 20 of the Prospectus Regulation, the prospectus, prior to its publication, must be approved by the competent financial regulatory authority. The competent financial regulatory authority shall notify the issuer within 10 working days from the submission of the prospectus of its decision on regarding the approval of the prospectus, whereby failure by the competent financial regulatory authority to give a decision on the approval of the prospectus shall not be deemed to constitute approval of the prospectus. In case the public offer involves securities issued by an issuer which does not have any securities admitted to trading on a regulated market and who has not previously offered securities to the public, the time limit for the approval of the prospectus is extended to 20 working days.

Once approved, the prospectus shall be filed with the competent authority of the home Member State, shall be accessible to ESMA through the competent authority and shall be made available to the public by the issuer, the offeror or the person asking for admission to trading on a regulated market (i) by insertion in newspapers, (ii) in a printed form to be made available, free of charge, to the public, (iii) in electronic form on the issuer's website, or (iv) by other means as further specified in Art. 21 of the Prospectus Regulation.

Art. 24 of the Prospectus Regulation provides that, where an offer to the public or admission to trading on a regulated market is provided for in one or more Member States, or in a Member State other than the home Member State, the prospectus approved by the home Member State and any supplements thereto shall be valid for the public offer or the admission to trading in any number of host Member States, provided that certain notification requirements are complied with.

Further details can be found in the Prospectus Regulation.

4.1.2 Implementation in Germany

As the Prospectus Regulation is directly applicable, numerous provisions of the WpPG are repealed, the content of which can now be found in the Prospectus Regulation.

BaFin is the competent German authority for the approval of a prospectus.

Pursuant to Art. 17 MAR, an issuer shall inform the public as soon as possible of inside information which directly concerns that issuer.

Inside information is information of a precise nature, which has not been made public, relating, directly or indirectly, to the issuer or to one or more financial instruments, and which, if it were made public, would be likely to have a significant effect (i.e. a reasonable investor would be likely to use this information as part of the basis of his or her investment decisions) on the prices of those financial instruments or on the price of related derivative financial instruments.

The issuer must ensure that inside information is made public in a manner which enables fast access and complete, correct and timely assessment of the information by the public. In addition, the inside information must be made available on the issuer's website to the general public for at least five years. The issuer shall not combine the disclosure of inside information to the public with the marketing of its activities.

Further details can be found in Art. 17 MAR and Commission Implementing Regulation (EU) 2016/1055. Further information on the term inside information can be found in Art. 7 MAR.

- (ii) German national legislation

German national legislation stipulates further obligations in section 26 WpHG and the provisions of WpAV dealing with the publication of information and notification on the publication.

In particular, a German domestic issuer (Inlandsemittent) must, prior to its publication, submit the inside information to BaFin and to the managements of the stock exchanges where the financial instruments are admitted to trading or are traded. As soon as possible after publication of the inside information, the inside information must be transmitted to the German Companies Register.

4.3.2 Delay of ad-hoc notification

- (i) Obligations pursuant to the MAR

Pursuant to Art. 17 para. 4 and 5 MAR an issuer may, on its own responsibility, delay public disclosure of inside information, provided that all of the following conditions are met:

- The delay of disclosure is not likely to mislead the public, and
- The issuer is able to ensure the confidentiality of that information.

The issuer or any person acting on its behalf or on its account shall:

- (a) draw up an insider list of all persons who have access to inside information and who are working for them under a contract of employment, or otherwise performing tasks through which they have access to inside information, such as advisers, accountants or credit rating agencies;
- (b) promptly update the insider list; and
- (c) provide the insider list to the competent authority as soon as possible upon its request.

Persons who are otherwise performing tasks through which they have access to inside information relating to the issuer, such as advisers, accountants or credit rating agencies, have an individual responsibility to draw up and update an insider list in accordance with Art. 18 MAR. The issuer or person acting on its behalf or on its account shall retain the insider list for a period of at least five years after it is drawn up or updated.

The insider list has a mandatory format set out in Commission Implementing Regulation (EU) 2016/347. The insider list is required to be deal-specific / event-based and divided into separate sections relating to different inside information. In addition, a supplementary section with the details of individuals who have access at all times to all inside information (permanent insiders) may be included. In that case, the details of permanent insiders included in the supplementary section shall not be included in the other sections of the insider list.

Further details can be found in Art. 18 MAR and Implementing Regulation (EU) 2016/347.

4.3.4 Market sounding

Art. 11 MAR sets out rules on the communication of information prior to the announcement of a transaction or in the context of a takeover bid (market sounding) by an issuer or by a secondary offeror of financial instruments or a third party acting on their behalf.

A market sounding comprises the communication of information, prior to the announcement of a transaction, in order to gauge the interest of potential investors in a possible transaction and the conditions relating to it such as its potential size or pricing, to one or more potential investors by the issuer or a third party acting on behalf or on the account of the issuer.

In addition, disclosure of inside information by the issuer, when intending to make a takeover bid for the securities of a company or to merge with a company, to parties entitled to the securities, also constitutes a market sounding, provided that:

- (a) the information is necessary to enable the parties entitled to the securities to form an opinion on their willingness to offer their securities; and
- (b) the willingness of parties entitled to the securities to offer their securities is reasonably required for the decision to make the takeover bid or merger.

Disclosure of inside information made in the course of a market sounding shall be deemed to be made in the normal exercise of a person's employment, profession or duties where the disclosing market participant complies with certain procedural, communication and documentation requirements as specified in Art. 11 MAR, Commission Implementing Regulation (EU) 2016/959, and Commission Implementing Regulation (EU) 2016/960.

Pursuant to Art. 15 MAR, neither an issuer, nor another market participant shall engage in or attempt to engage in market manipulation.

The term “market manipulation” is defined in Art. 12 MAR and includes numerous variants of both information-based market manipulation (e.g. disseminating information which gives, or is likely to give, false or misleading signals as to the supply of, demand for, or price of, a financial instrument or other relevant instruments), and trade-based market manipulation (e.g. entering into a transaction, placing an order to trade or any other activity or behaviour which affects or is likely to affect the price of one or several financial instruments or other relevant instruments).

- it is carried out in accordance with the objectives referred to in paragraph 2 and the conditions set out in this Article and in the regulatory technical standards referred to in paragraph 6.

In order to benefit from the exemption, a buy-back programme shall have as its sole purpose:

- to reduce the capital of an issuer;
- to meet obligations arising from debt financial instruments that are exchangeable into equity instruments; or
